

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

August 7, 2008

H.R. 6608
House Reservists Pay Adjustment Act of 2008

As ordered reported by the Committee on House Administration on July 30, 2008

H.R. 6608 would provide for the replacement of lost income for employees of the House of Representatives who are members of a reserve component of the armed forces and are on active duty for more than 30 days. Lost income would be defined as the difference between the employee's military and civilian compensation, subject to certain adjustments. CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 6608 would have no significant impact on the federal budget and would not affect direct spending or revenues.

The costs of implementing the legislation would depend on the size of the future reserve force, which depends on the duration of the military operations in Iraq, activities related to the war on terrorism, and the size of the force required for those conflicts. Information from the House of Representatives and the Department of Defense indicates that, to date, very few employees of the House of Representatives have been called to active duty. Thus, CBO estimates that implementing the bill would not significantly increase discretionary spending.

H.R. 6608 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contacts for this estimate are Matthew Pickford and Barry Blom. This estimate was approved by Theresa Gullo, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.