

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

August 2, 2001

H.R. 2199

District of Columbia Police Coordination Amendment Act of 2001

As ordered reported by the House Committee on Government Reform on July 25, 2001

H.R. 2199 would authorize all federal law enforcement agencies to enter into cooperative agreements with the Metropolitan Police Department of the District of Columbia to assist in carrying out crime prevention and law enforcement activities. Current law allows most federal law enforcement agencies to provide assistance, specifically designating 32 such agencies, so CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2199 would have no significant impact on the federal budget. The bill would not affect direct spending or receipts, so pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply.

H.R. 2199 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act. The bill would amend the statutes of the District of Columbia to authorize additional federal law enforcement agencies to enter into cooperative agreements with the Metropolitan Police Department to assist the Department in carrying out crime prevention and law enforcement activities. While the District of Columbia may incur costs as a result of such shared responsibilities, the overall effect of the bill would be a benefit to the District of Columbia.

The CBO staff contacts for this estimate are Mark Grabowicz (for federal costs), and Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the state and local impact). This estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.
