S. 1910

A bill to amend the act establishing Women's Rights National Historical Park to permit the Secretary of the Interior to acquire title in fee simple to the Hunt House located in Waterloo, New York

As ordered reported by the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources on April 5, 2000

S. 1910 would authorize the National Park Service to purchase the Hunt House, a component of the Women's Rights National Historical Park in New York. Assuming appropriation of the necessary amounts, CBO estimates that implementing S. 1910 would cost the federal government about $2.4 million over the next three to five years to acquire and restore the property. An additional $200,000 annually would be required each year to manage the property, also subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

The bill would not affect direct spending or receipts; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply. The bill contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would have no significant impact on the budgets of state, local, or tribal governments.
