S. 785

An act for the relief of Francis Schochenmaier and Mary Hudson

As cleared by the Congress on October 27, 2000

S. 785 would require that the Secretary of the Treasury pay $60,567.58 to Francis Schochenmaier as compensation for the underpayment of disability benefits owed to her husband as a result of his military service in World War II. In addition, the legislation would prohibit the Secretary of Veterans Affairs from attempting to recover $97,253 from the estate of Wallace Hudson. That recovery relates to disability benefits that were provided after Mr. Hudson's death.
