

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE
COST ESTIMATE

April 2, 2007

H.R. 1678
Torture Victims Relief Reauthorization Act of 2007
As ordered reported by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs on March 27, 2007

H.R. 1678 would authorize the appropriation of $49 million in both 2008 and 2009 for foreign and domestic programs to assist victims of torture. CBO estimates that implementing the bill would cost $22 million in 2008 and $97 million over the 2008-2012 period, assuming that outlays would follow historical spending patterns for those programs and that the authorized amounts would be appropriated. The bill would not affect direct spending or revenues.

The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 1678 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget functions 150 (international affairs) and 550 (health).

Section 2 of the bill would authorize the appropriation of $25 million a year in 2008 and 2009 for the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) for domestic treatment of victims of torture. Under current law, HHS makes grants to programs in the United States that provide psychological and physical rehabilitation, social services, and legal services to victims of torture. Section 3 would authorize the appropriation of $12 million in 2008 and $12 million in 2009 for foreign treatment centers for victims of torture. Finally, section 4 would authorize the appropriation of $12 million in 2008 and $12 million in 2009 for grants to the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture.

H.R. 1678 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would not affect the budgets of state, local, or tribal governments.
