Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations

January 2010

(In This Version, Appendix Material Is Sorted by Appropriation Subcommittee)
Notes

Numbers in the tables may not add up to totals because of rounding.

In separate versions of this report, the listings of public laws in the appendixes are displayed in three ways—by House authorizing committee, by Senate authorizing committee, and by appropriation subcommittee.
This report by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) satisfies the requirements of section 202(e)(3) of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act, as amended. The report, which must be completed by January 15 of each year, is intended to assist the Congress in determining the authorizing legislation that should be in place before it considers the regular appropriation bills for the upcoming fiscal year—in this case, fiscal year 2011, which begins on October 1, 2010.

The Scorekeeping Unit of CBO’s Budget Analysis Division prepared this report under the direction of Janet Airis. The other members of that unit are Edward Blau, Joanna Capps, Virginia Myers, Jennifer Reynolds, Mark Sanford, and Esther Steinbock. The authors gratefully acknowledge the help of Mary Froehlich of CBO and numerous staff members of Congressional committees.

Jeanine Rees edited the report and prepared it for publication, with assistance from Maureen Costantino. Linda Schimmel handled the print distribution and Ernestine McNeil assisted with the distribution of the document in its electronic format. It is available on CBO’s Web site, www.cbo.gov. Questions about the report should be directed to Janet Airis at (202) 226-2850.

Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations

Overview

Each January, the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) reports to the Congress on:

- All programs and activities funded for the current fiscal year for which authorizations of appropriations have expired and
- All programs and activities for which authorizations of appropriations will expire during the current fiscal year.

That requirement is specified in section 202(e)(3) of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974.

The purpose of that provision is “to help Congress use the early months of the year to adopt authorizing legislation that must be in place before the regular appropriation bills can be considered.”

The Role of Authorizations

The term “authorization” is used to describe two types of laws. One is an “organic,” or “enabling,” statute, which creates a federal agency, establishes a federal program, prescribes a federal function, or allows a particular federal obligation or expenditure within a program. That type of authorization may allow a federal agency, program, or function to continue indefinitely, or it may allow it to continue only for a specific period. Such an authorization may constitute a direct spending program because it provides the direct authority to draw money from the Treasury to implement the statute, or it may simply specify a purpose for which a subsequent appropriation is made available.

Although enabling statutes, particularly those whose implementation depends on future appropriation action, are necessary for programs to operate, authorizations of that type are not the focus of this report. Instead, this report focuses on the second type of law described by the term “authorization”: a specific provision that authorizes the appropriation of funds to carry out the program or function established in the enabling statute. Such a provision constitutes guidance to the Congress regarding the amount of funding that will be necessary to implement the enabling statute. An authorization of appropriations may be contained in the enabling statute or may be provided separately. Such an authorization may set a specific dollar amount (definite authorization) or allow the appropriation of “such sums as may be necessary” (indefinite authorization) and may be permanent, multiyear, or annual. For the purposes of this report, an appropriation is considered unauthorized when it is made available for a program after that program’s authorization of appropriations has expired. This report does not address appropriations that have never been authorized.

House and Senate rules—dating from the 19th century—generally preclude the Congress from considering appropriations that are unauthorized. In both the House and the Senate, legislation containing unauthorized appropriations is subject to a point of order. However, House and Senate rules are not self-enforcing. An individual Representative or Senator must raise a point of order for the rules to be enforced. If no Member raises a point of order, an unauthorized appropriation may proceed through the legislative process.

Although this report is intended to aid the Congress by identifying those authorizations of appropriations that have expired or will expire, it should not be considered definitive regarding the application of House or Senate rules. What constitutes an “unauthorized appropriation” under such rules is determined by the precedents of the House or Senate, and the applicability of those rules is determined by the respective Office of the Parliamentarian.

Listings of Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations
This report covers all programs funded through the annual appropriation process that at one time had an explicit authorization of appropriations that has since expired (see Appendix A) or will expire this year (see Appendix B). Each listing includes the number and name of the public law containing the last authorization, the last year that the authorization was in effect, and the amount (definite or indefinite) authorized in that year. In separate versions of this report, the listings of public laws in the appendixes are displayed in three ways—by House authorizing committee, by Senate authorizing committee, and by appropriation subcommittee.

The information in this report is drawn from CBO’s Legislative Classification System, a database reflecting all public laws that contain nonpermanent authorizations of appropriations—up to and including laws enacted during the first session of the 111th Congress.

2. A point of order is an objection raised by a Member of Congress against a piece of legislation or a procedure on the grounds that it violates the rules of the House or Senate. The Presiding Officer decides whether to sustain or overrule the point of order on the basis of the specific rule and precedents under it. The decision of the Presiding Officer is subject to appeal to the full House or Senate, where it can be waived, generally by a majority vote.

Programs Funded in Fiscal Year 2010 with Expired Authorizations of Appropriations
Appendix A lists the programs and activities funded by an appropriation for fiscal year 2010 whose authorization of appropriations has expired. If the applicable 2010 appropriation law or its legislative history provides an explicit amount of funding for a program, that amount is shown under “Unauthorized FY 2010 Appropriations” in that appendix. If no specific amount is provided (as in the case of a small program that is funded at an unidentified level in a large appropriation account, or a program that is funded in several appropriation accounts), CBO determines whether the program is still being funded and, if so, how much is allocated for it. If that amount cannot be determined, the listing notes that the specific dollar amount of the unauthorized 2010 appropriation is “not available”—meaning that it is not specifically identifiable.

The Congress has appropriated about $290 billion for fiscal year 2010 for programs and activities whose authorizations of appropriations have expired (see Tables 1, 2, and ). Large programs or agencies with expired authorizations include the National Institutes of Health ($31 billion), the Federal Bureau of Investigation ($8 billion), and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children ($7 billion). Many programs originally authorized in the Violence Against Women and Department of Justice Reauthorization Act of 2005 (Public Law 109-162) and the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, 2003 (P.L. 107-228) have been funded but remain unauthorized ($25 billion and $22 billion, respectively).³

Authorizations of Appropriations
That Expire on or Before
September 30, 2010
For certain programs and activities, the authorization of appropriations expires by the end of fiscal year 2010.
(Appendix B shows the amounts authorized to be appropriated in 2010 for the expiring programs and activities, not the amounts actually appropriated for that year.)

Definite authorizations (specifically, those contained in laws under the jurisdiction of House and Senate authorizing committees) that will expire by the end of this fiscal year total about $733 billion (see Tables 4, 5, and 6).
Most of that amount, about $680 billion, is authorized in a single law, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (P.L. 111-84). Typically, authorizations for defense funding are renewed annually.

In contrast, the 2010 authorization for intelligence activities has not yet been enacted. In the interim, lawmakers have enacted section 8079 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2010 (division A of P.L. 111-118), which deems as authorized its appropriations for intelligence activities until the specific authorization for those activities is enacted.

Some of the larger definite authorizations for programs that are expiring at the end of 2010 include the America Competes Act (P.L. 110-69, with authorizations of $15 billion), the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 – Academic Competitiveness Grants (P.L. 109-171, with an authorization of $1 billion), and several provisions of the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007 (P.L.
110-140, with authorizations of $1 billion).

In addition, during the first few months of fiscal year 2010, lawmakers enacted temporary authorizations that will expire during fiscal year 2010. Those authorizations are for the Federal Aviation Administration (through March 31, 2010), for surface transportation programs (through February 28, 2010), and for the Small Business Administration (through January 31, 2010).

³ Several laws enacted in fiscal year 2009 and the early part of 2010 contained reauthorizations for agencies or programs with annual appropriations. They include the Serve America Act (through 2014), the Ryan White HIV/AIDS Treatment Extension Act of 2009 (through 2013), and the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010 (through 2010).
