

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

September 30, 2016

H.R. 5625 Modernizing Government Travel Act

As passed the U.S. House of Representatives on September 22, 2016

H.R. 5625 would amend federal laws to allow federal employees who use transportation network companies when travelling on official business to be reimbursed for official travel expenses obtained through such companies. Examples of those companies would include Uber, Lyft, and bike-share providers. Under the bill the General Services Administration (GSA) and agencies would provide annual reports on the cost of government transportation.

GSA recently issued a bulletin that provides guidance for agencies on using transportation network companies. In addition, GSA has an online tool for travel reporting that agencies can use to track their travel expenses. Because most of the bill's requirements are being implemented under current law, CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 5625 would cost less than $500,000.

Enacting H.R. 5625 also could affect direct spending by agencies not funded through annual appropriations; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures apply. CBO estimates, however, that any net increase in spending by those agencies would be negligible. Enacting H.R. 5625 would not affect revenues.

CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 5625 would not increase direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2027.

H.R. 5625 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Matthew Pickford. The estimate was approved by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.
