

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

June 12, 2018

S. 2269 Global Food Security Reauthorization Act of 2017

As reported by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations on May 22, 2018

S. 2269 would reauthorize programs at the Department of State and the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) to provide humanitarian assistance following international disasters and to improve global food security. It would authorize appropriations of almost $3.8 billion each year in 2019 and 2020 for those programs (the same amount that was authorized for 2017 and 2018). On the basis of information from the department and USAID about spending patterns for the ongoing programs, and assuming appropriation of those specified amounts, CBO estimates that implementing S. 2269 would cost $5.8 billion over the 2019-2023 period. (Most of the remainder would be spent in subsequent years.)

Enacting S. 2269 would not affect direct spending or revenues; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply.

CBO estimates that enacting S. 2269 would not increase net direct spending or on-budget deficits in any of the four consecutive 10-year periods beginning in 2029.

The bill would authorize the appropriation of $2.8 billion each year for international disaster assistance, including emergency food assistance, to relieve human suffering after manmade or natural disasters. S. 2269 also would authorize the appropriation of $1.0 billion each year for food security programs that provide assistance to developing countries to reduce chronic hunger and poverty, support economic growth by expanding agricultural output, and improve nutrition, especially among women and children. In 2018, the Congress appropriated almost $4.3 billion for international disaster assistance and provided not less than $1.0 billion for food security programs.

The estimated budgetary impact of S. 2269 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall primarily within budget function 150 (international affairs).

	By Fiscal Year, in Millions of Dollars						2019-

Numbers may not add up to totals because of rounding.

S. 2269 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

On April 26, 2018, CBO transmitted a cost estimate for H.R. 5129 as ordered reported by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs on April 17, 2018. That bill is similar to S. 2269 and CBO's estimates of the budgetary effects of implementing them are the same.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Sunita D'Monte. The estimate was reviewed by Leo Lex, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.
