		Contains private-sector mandate?	No
* = between zero and $500,000.

S. 4460 would require the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) to review at least once every three years its current policies and manuals related to inspections at ports of entry. The bill also would require CBP to submit a report to the Congress highlighting any changes implemented that result from such a review.

Based on information from CBP, CBO estimates that implementing S. 4460 would cost less than $500,000 over the 2022-2027 period. Such spending would be subject to the availability of appropriated funds.

S. 4460 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would not affect the budgets of state, local, or tribal governments.

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Jeremy Crimm. The estimate was reviewed by Leo Lex, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis.
