Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations

(In This Version, Appendix Material Is Sorted by Senate Authorizing Committee)
Notes

Numbers in the tables may not add up to totals because of rounding.

In separate versions of this report, the public laws in the appendixes are displayed in three ways—by House authorizing committee, by Senate authorizing committee, and by appropriations subcommittee. Each entry is listed only once, generally under the primary committee to which the bill was referred.

Questions about the report should be directed to Janet Airis at (202) 226-2850.
Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations

Overview
Each year, the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) reports to the Congress on the following:

- All programs and activities funded for the current fiscal year for which authorizations of appropriations have expired, and
- All programs and activities for which authorizations of appropriations will expire during the current fiscal year.

The requirement for that report is specified in section 202(e)(3) of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 (Congressional Budget Act). That section also specifies that the report be completed on or before January 15. In 2014, however, full-year appropriations were not enacted until mid-January. In order to make this year’s report complete and up-to-date, and thus as useful to the Congress as possible, and after consulting with the House and Senate budget committees, CBO delayed the issuance of this report until mid-February.

The Role of Authorizations
The term “authorization” is used to describe two types of laws. One is an “organic,” or “enabling,” statute, which creates a federal agency, establishes a federal program, prescribes a federal function, or provides for a particular federal obligation or expenditure within a program. That type of authorization may allow a federal agency, program, or function to continue indefinitely or only for a specific period. Such an authorization may provide an agency with the authority to obligate and spend federal funds in the form of direct, or mandatory, spending, or it may simply specify a purpose for which a subsequent appropriation may be made available.

This report focuses on the second type of law described by the term “authorization”: a specific provision that authorizes the appropriation of funds (generally providing for what is known as discretionary spending) to carry out the program or function established in the enabling statute. Such a provision constitutes guidance to the Congress regarding the amount of funding that may be necessary to implement the enabling statute. An authorization of appropriations may be contained in an enabling statute or provided separately. Such an authorization may set a specific dollar amount (a definite authorization) or allow the appropriation of “such sums as may be necessary” (an indefinite authorization), and it may be annual, multiyear, or permanent.

House and Senate rules—dating from the 19th century—contain restrictions on the consideration of appropriations that are unauthorized, although the rules and their application are different. Whether an appropriation is unauthorized and whether it is a violation of a House or Senate rule are determined by the Speaker of the House or the Presiding Officer of the Senate, respectively, on the basis of advice from the respective House's Office of the Parliamentarian. Although this report is intended to aid the Congress by identifying those authorizations of appropriations that have already expired or will expire this year, it is not and should not be considered definitive with respect to the application of House or Senate rules.

1. See H. Rept. 99-433, at 114 (1985), the conference report accompanying the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, which amended the Congressional Budget Act to include the requirement for this report. The stated purpose of the requirement is “to help Congress use the early months of the year to adopt authorizing legislation that must be in place before the regular appropriation bills can be considered.”

2. See Congressional Budget Office, letter to the Honorable Patty Murray, Chairman, Senate Committee on the Budget, regarding the CBO’s schedule to issue the unauthorized appropriations and expiring authorizations report (January 14, 2014), www.cbo.gov/publication/45018.

Listing of Unauthorized Appropriations and Expiring Authorizations

This report covers all programs funded through the annual appropriation process that at one time had an explicit authorization of appropriations that has expired (see Appendix A) or that will expire this year (see Appendix B). For the purposes of this report, an appropriation is considered unauthorized when it is made available for a program after that program's authorization of appropriations has expired. This report does not address appropriations that have never been authorized.

Each listing includes the number and name of the public law containing the last authorization, the last year in which the authorization was in effect, and the amount (definite or indefinite) authorized in that year. In separate versions of this report, the listings of public laws in the appendixes are displayed in three ways—by House authorizing committee, by Senate authorizing committee, and by appropriations subcommittee. Each entry is listed only once, generally under the primary committee to which the bill was referred.

In general, House and Senate rules require the appropriations committees, in their reports on general appropriation bills, to identify any programs that are funded in the bills but lack an authorization—including programs for which an explicit authorization of appropriations has never been enacted. This CBO report, as specified by law, is narrower in scope: It covers only programs that at one time had an explicit authorization that either has expired or is scheduled to expire this year. Many laws establish programs with an authorization of appropriations that does not expire. The reports of the appropriations committees as well as this report exclude programs with that type of permanent authorization.

The information in this report is drawn from CBO’s Legislative Classification System, a database containing all public laws that include nonpermanent authorizations of appropriations—up to and including laws enacted as of the beginning of February 2014.

Programs Funded in Fiscal Year 2014 With Expired Authorizations of Appropriations

Appendix A lists programs and activities funded by an appropriation for fiscal year 2014 whose authorization has expired. If the applicable 2014 appropriation law or its legislative history provides an explicit amount of funding for a program, that amount is shown under “Unauthorized 2014 Appropriations” in Appendix A. If no amount is provided (as in the case of a program or activity that is funded at an unspecified level in an appropriation account), CBO determined whether the program or activity is still being funded, and if so, how much is allocated for it. If that amount cannot be identified, the listing notes that the specific dollar amount of the unauthorized 2014 appropriation is “not available.”

Lawmakers appropriated about $302 billion for fiscal year 2014 for programs and activities whose authorizations of appropriations have expired (see Tables 1, 2, and 3). In 2012, the most recent year for which appropriations information was provided in this annual CBO report, about $261 billion was appropriated for such programs. The 2014 amount is higher primarily because of recently expired authorizations, including those in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Authorization Act of 2010 (with appropriations of $18 billion in 2014), the America COMPETES Act ($12 billion), and the act to reauthorize Head Start ($9 billion).

In contrast, some programs that were unauthorized in 2012 have since been authorized. For example, lawmakers enacted the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Act, 2012, which authorized Coast Guard appropriations through 2014, and the Agricultural Act of 2014, which authorized appropriations for the Department of Agriculture through 2018.

Several large agencies or programs have expired authorizations, including the National Institutes of Health (with appropriations of $30 billion for 2014), the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (with appropriations of $4.5 billion for 2014), and the Community Development Block Grant program (with appropriations

Authorizations of Appropriations That Expire on or Before September 30, 2014

For certain programs and activities, the authorization of appropriations will expire by the end of fiscal year 2014. (Appendix B shows the amount authorized to be appropriated in 2014 for those programs and activities, not the amounts actually appropriated for that year.)

Definite, or specified, authorizations that will expire by the end of this fiscal year total about $693 billion (see Tables 4, 5, and 6). Most of that amount, about $625 billion, is authorized in a single law, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2014 (P.L. 113-66). Typically, authorizations for defense funding are renewed annually.

In contrast, the annual authorization for intelligence activities has not yet been enacted. In the interim, lawmakers have included provisions in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014 (P.L. 113-76), that deem the appropriations for those activities specifically authorized for 2014.

Some of the other definite authorizations for programs that are expiring at the end of 2014 are those in the Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act ($53 billion) and the Coast Guard and Maritime Transportation Act of 2012 ($8.7 billion).

Many authorizations of appropriations in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (P.L. 111-148) are also expiring in 2014. Authorizations in that act are definite (totaling about $800 million for 2014) and indefinite (amounts are not specified in the legislation). Similarly, almost all of the provisions in the Higher Education Opportunity Act (P.L. 110-315), which has definite authorizations of about $750 million as well as indefinite authorizations, will expire in 2014.

About This Document

This report by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) satisfies the requirements of section 202(e)(3) of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act, as amended. The report is intended to assist the Congress by identifying authorizations of appropriations that have expired or that will expire this year. The report, which the law specifies should be completed by January 15, was delayed this year in order to incorporate information about the full-year appropriations for 2014.

The Scorekeeping Unit of CBO’s Budget Analysis Division prepared this report under the direction of Janet Airis. The other members of the unit are Edward Blau, Joanna Capps, Virginia Myers, Mark Sanford, Esther Steinbock, and Adam Wilson. Mary Froelich of CBO and numerous staff members of Congressional committees provided assistance.

Jeanine Rees edited the report and prepared it for publication. It is available on CBO’s website, (www.cbo.gov/publication/45121).
